

KISS ME NOW

Chicklit Novel

Raquel G. Estruch

Marga comes back to the quiet town of Benidorm to fix her broken heart and work on his second novel. She will live there the most fun and bizarre moments of her life and make new friends. Will Marga succumb to passion again? A light-hearted romance novel full of desire, sex and humor.

Synopsis

Marga decides to fled to her town, Benidorm, after feeling overwhelmed by everything that has happened with Andrés and Oscar. She will try to focus on writing her second novel and lick her wounds. But then David, a widower who runs a bookstore/cafe in that town, unexpectedly pops up in her life. That event will not only make Marga rethink all her decisions but also her life in Barcelona.

Montse and Alex will decide to visit her in order to find out what is really happening. Marga will live with both of them the most fun and bizarre moments of this second part that takes place in Benidorm.

Marga, who has a very tense relationship with Andrés after their breakup, will also have to face him. She will have to decide if she still wants him to be a part of her life or not. On the other hand, Oscar is not willing to let her go so easily and will fight with everything at his disposal to recover her love because he is convinced that she is the love of his life.

Will Marga succumb again to the passionate love she feels for Oscar, or settle for a quieter life with David?

Biography

Raquel G. Estruch (Benidorm, 1973) has a degree in Journalism at the University of Barcelona and a degree in Humanities at the UOC (Universitat Oberta de Catalunya). Sales pitch

-This is a lightweight novel that engages the reader from the first page. It is the perfect blend of love, sex and humor with a surprising ending.

- This book tells a believable story with characters the reader can identify with: Marga, Montse, Alex, Oscar, David and Andrew are people who love and suffer for love, that are deceived and cheated, that try to make things work in their romantic relationships and jobs, etc. These stories can happen to anyone, and through the stream of consciousness narrative technique, we will know what the characters really think.

-This work is clearly influenced by romance novel authors such as Victoria Holt, Nora Roberts, Kate Morton or Marta Rivera de la Cruz, or the last wave of chicklit representatives as Rebecca Rus, Candace Bushnell, Sophie Kinsella and Megan Maxwell.

-This easy reading and gripping title is the sequel of the novel Kiss Me A Lot, and the action takes place in Benidorm, the town where Marga tries to lick her wounds.

-The author promotes her work actively through social networks: she has a very visited blog and nearly 11,000 followers on Twitter. She belongs to a lot of literary groups 2.0. and frequently attends literary meetings and collaborates with reading clubs of romantic and chicklit literature such as B'Radie.
